

KANSAS STATE 38, NEBRASKA 9

HUMILIATION HITS HOME

Iowa's Erik Jensen, left, and Robert Gallery hoist Floyd of Rosedale, the pig statue that goes to the Hawkeyes-Minnesota winner. Floyd will stay in Iowa City for the third straight year.

Hawkeyes feast on Gopher errors

Iowa capitalizes on turnovers and Kaeding's four field goals to wallop 19th-ranked Minnesota.

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Iowa wanted to protect the pig and defend its turf. With some timely turnovers, the Hawkeyes did both.

No. 20 Iowa recovered four fumbles and intercepted a pass, and Nate Kaeding tied his own school record with four field goals in a 40-22 victory over 19th-ranked Minnesota on Saturday.

Minnesota (9-3, 5-3 Big Ten) moved up and down the field while totaling 563 yards, but Iowa (8-3, 4-3) led 40-6 by the time the Gophers got into the end zone.

"We bent a little too much," Iowa linebacker Grant Steen said. "They had some yards and too many big plays. But we did a great job when it got down to crunch time to get the big turnover."

The Hawkeyes' opportunistic defense ensured that Floyd of Rosedale, the pig statue that goes to the Iowa-Minnesota winner, will stay in Iowa City for the third straight year.

Minnesota, playing its regular-season finale, lost three fumbles after driving deep into Iowa territory — one when Laurence Maroney was about to score. The Gophers were leading the nation in rushing with an average of 304 yards per game but managed only 54 while the game was being decided in the middle two quarters.

Until Thomas Tapeh scored on a 2-yard run with 4:52 left, Minnesota had nothing to show for all its yards except field

See Iowa: Page 2

A swarming Kansas State defense, led by defensive end Thomas Houchin, engulfs Nebraska I-back Cory Ross. K-State held Nebraska to 77 yards in the second half after giving up 216 in the first.

Bufs crush Iowa St.; next up are Huskers

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Colorado Coach Gary Barnett's team had not led any opponent by more than 14 points this season, so it presented a problem when the Buffaloes went to the locker room at halftime leading 37-0 over Iowa State on Saturday.

"I didn't know what to do," Barnett said. "I didn't know what to say to the team at halftime. That doesn't happen very much."

Barnett's Buffaloes can qualify for a bowl on Nov. 28 if they can beat Nebraska in an 11 a.m. CST game in Boulder, Colo. Colorado will be gunning for its third straight victory over the Huskers, who lost 38-9 at Kansas State in Lincoln on Saturday to fall to 8-3.

Joel Klatt threw two touchdowns passes and Brian Calhoun ran for two more scores in Colorado's 44-10 victory over the Cyclones.

Klatt, 21 for 27 for 288 yards, threw a 42-yard scoring pass to D.J. Hackett and a 20-yarder to John Donahoe.

Calhoun, who scored on two 4-yard runs, had 73 yards rushing and caught two passes for 58 yards. The two touchdowns marked the first multiple touchdown game for the sophomore, who went over the 1,000-yard rushing mark for his career with 1,059.

"They dominated and mauled us today."

Dan McCarney, Iowa State coach

"They dominated and mauled us today," Iowa State Coach Dan McCarney said. "They made some really tremendous plays, and we had some uncharacteristic breakdowns in our secondary."

Colorado (5-6, 3-4 Big 12) See Colorado: Page 2

Huskers slip to sad state against KSU

LINCOLN — Red alert. Nebraska football reached a new low on Saturday. This is getting to the danger level.

Tom Shatel

Kansas State came in and beat the Huskers at home like nobody has since 1958, 38-9, but the embarrassment and hopelessness were not as close as the score indicated.

How bad was it? It was so bad that, by the middle of the fourth quarter, as K-State kept scoring with ease, nearly half of the faithful at Memorial Stadium had left.

It was so bad that, as Coach Bill Snyder put up another finishing touch score late, the sounds of the Wildcat band playing "Happy Trails" could be heard throughout the home field.

See Shatel: Page 2

Linebacker Barrett Ruud soaks in NU's worst home loss since Missouri whipped the Huskers 31-0 in 1958.

Kansas State hands Nebraska its worst loss in Lincoln in 45 years.

BY ELIZABETH MERRILL WORLD-HERALD STAFF WRITER

LINCOLN — Ell Roberson stood on the 50-yard line, staring at Jamal Lord, and you knew things were going to get ugly Saturday because it was only warmups and smack had already filled the cold autumn air.

It got way uglier for Nebraska. Coaches jawed, Roberson taunted and mothers cried as the Huskers limped out of Senior Day with their worst home loss in 45 years, a 38-9 Kansas State rout Saturday before a stunned 78,014 at Memorial Stadium.

Half the stadium was empty as Lord took his final exit, quietly heading for the tunnel while the Wildcats waved towels and danced around him. Earlier in the week, the maligned Nebraska quarterback declined to comment on whether he'd miss playing at Memorial Stadium, but it was obvious after Saturday's scene that Lord couldn't have found the exit fast enough.

He walked out of the postgame press conference with an arm See Huskers: Page 2

INSIDE

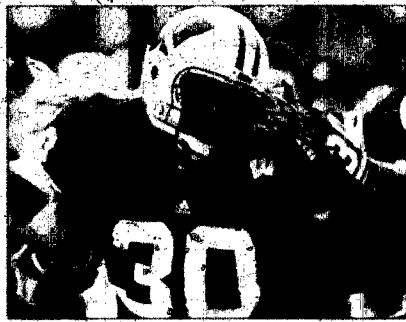

Every day
Texas A&M got throttled again, this time by quarterback Brad Smith and the Missouri Tigers, who won 45-22.

Page 6

It's a-gettin' closer
Ohio State squeaked by Purdue after Boilermaker kicker Ben Jones missed an overtime field-goal attempt.

Page 8

Goin' faster
Dwayne Smith, No. 30, and the Wisconsin Badgers ran wild over No. 21 Michigan State with a 56-21 Big Ten victory.

Page 8

Than a roller coaster
Demco Crisp and the Miami Hurricanes avoided a third straight loss — but just barely: Syracuse fell 17-10 at the Orange Bowl.

Page 6